

I depend on Captioning on TV and it is needed on all channel, movies. etc....I feel if captioning is not an option then neither is audio.....So does this mean we go back to silent movies, etc.

Being Hard of Hearing, most of us miss important information that a hearing person can hear, sometimes there is music in background that makes the show more understandable, and most is captioned.